Potential webinars leading up to the submission deadline for 2017 Excellence in Technology include topics such as ePortfolios, supporting online faculty, and using technology to improve accessibility. Future submissions for Excellence in Technology will now require a short video to help narrow down applicants prior to spring conference. Look for emails from the Technology Commission's list.

2016 Spring Conference - We joined the Student Development Conference hosted at Valencia College on May 17-19. We hoped this help enhance the SDC Conference and will partner again in May 2017. This will allow our Excellence in Technology Finalist to present and judge for winners prior to conference again.

Sessions offered During Spring 2016 Conference:

- Redesign of Online Orientation (Student Development & Technology)
- Communication Dynamite: Community Building, Marketing, and Customer Service (Marketing & Technology)
- Exemplary Practice Finals

Marketing Campaign as The Second Choice – The technology commission will be focusing on reaching out to members active in other commissions to add technology as a second or third choice. We want to emphasize the role of technology in each of the other commissions and hope to present joint webinars and conference workshops with these members in an effort to emphasize the ways technology should (and should not) be used to increase effectiveness and efficiency.

AFC Technology Commission Facebook Group continues to be used to sustain conversations around technology best practices and sharing ideas year around. <https://www.facebook.com/groups/1498588013744712>
