Welcome to Orlando for the 64th Annual Convention. I am pleased that you are joining us at the Caribe Royale. The theme for the convention is Pathways, Pipelines, and Partnerships. The pathway to success starts when a student signs an application form to attend one of our great institutions of higher education. We have many pipelines leading out to success in life after attending one of the “Great 28”. We will continue to add to the pipelines with the success of our college graduates, staff, and faculty.

We form a partnership with our community to meet their needs and ours. This association works every day to find partnerships with other organizations for you, our great members.

Take a look through the pages of this program and you will find a plethora of activities to keep you busy over the next few days. We will recognize and honor many of our great members, graduate our leadership class, celebrate our successes, discuss our many challenges, and conduct the business of the association.

This event takes a lot of planning and preparation. Special thanks to the Planning Committee, Region Directors, AFC staff, Doug Ryan and Associates, and all the volunteers for your work. When you have an opportunity tell them “Thank you” for making this happen. We also want to give a special thanks to our sponsors and exhibitors who make our Convention experience a successful one.

I hope that I get a chance to say hello to you and have a great Convention!

Byron Todd,
2013 AFC President
Welcome to Convention
(sung to the tune of Welcome to the Jungle by Guns and Roses)

Verse
Welcome to Convention
A little work ‘n’ fun ‘n’ games
We got everything you want
In the Higher Ed domains
We’re the people that can find
ed sessions that you need
Now we got the program and
It will plant the seed.

Chorus
AFC Convention
Welcome to Convention
64 times that we’ve observed
Watching you learn, learn, learn.

Verse
Welcome to Convention
For only a few days
To do your job a bit better
it’s worth the price you pay
Awards and recognitions
for some we may appease
But the Gala and the Opening Session
Will bring you to your knees.

Verse
Welcome to Convention
Who is Professor of the Year?
What are the exemplary practices
For which we’ll bend your ear?
Which Chapters and Commissions
Have shown us all their best?
Meet vendors in the trade show
Who are here at our behest.

Chorus
AFC Convention
Welcome to Convention
64 times that we’ve observed
Watching you learn, learn, learn.

Have great Convention AFC Members!!!

It is my honor to announce the 2013 Chancellor’s Best Practice Awards. Through these awards, we recognize efficient and innovative programs and strategies that help make the Florida College System a model for the nation.

This year’s winning submissions include a wide variety of programs – using software to support student learning in a visual environment; recruiting students back to college to complete their degrees; running a boot camp for students in developmental education; and delivering student counseling services through a public-private initiative. These programs were specifically tailored to meet the needs of diverse students from across the state. We are proud of the faculty and staff at our colleges who have worked tirelessly to bring our colleges these unique opportunities.

Congratulations to all of the programs being recognized and to all the colleges that submitted innovative practices. This was a particularly tough year to judge as all the submissions were excellent. I encourage you to continue to share your innovations and ideas through your own best practices.

Sincerely,

Randy Hanna, Chancellor
Redesigning upper-level developmental math, reading, and writing courses as eight-week, 2 credit hour courses reduced the time that some students spent in remedial coursework; allowed some students to take transfer level math, reading, and/or writing courses in the same semester; individualized instruction through course modularization; and promoted student success through careful supervision/mentoring by faculty. Content delivery included mini-lectures by faculty and diagnostic testing to tailor instruction for specific course competencies.

Project Win-Win (Return to the River)
Indian River State College

College completion is a key priority at Indian River State College (IRSC), in the Florida College System and across the nation. Project Win-Win – known at IRSC as Return to the River – is a research-based, highly successful approach to identifying students who left college before earning degrees and bringing them to degree completion. IRSC ran a file of 11,000 former students against the university system and the National Student Clearinghouse to identify those who had some college credit but no degree. The Project Win-Win team created a data tracking system, sent out communications to the students and recruited them back to earn degrees with outstanding results: 72 percent were confirmed for completion (860 students) or re-enrolled (351 students) over a two-year period.
Miami Dade College offers intensive, one-week boot camps in reading, writing and mathematics for first-time-in-college, direct entry from high school students who scored into developmental education. The college implemented the pilot program in summer 2012, with full implementation in summer 2013. The goals of the boot camps are three-fold: to reduce or eliminate the need for developmental courses; to prepare students to successfully complete the placement test; and to increase readiness for college-level courses. The content of the courses is modularized and supported by computer software programs. Students take a diagnostic the first day of class, from which a personalized learning plan is developed based on individual skill gaps. Instructors are trained in both pedagogy and technology to promote the highest level of student achievement. In the pilot implementation in 2012, the boot camps were provided free-of-charge to eligible students and attendance was voluntary. Approximately 1,900 boot camp seats in 120 classes were filled. During fall 2012, students who attended boot camps passed reading, writing and mathematics courses into which they were placed post-boot camp at higher-than-overall passing rates.
Student Assistance Program: Maximizing Student Success through a Public-Private Partnership
Pasco-Hernando Community College

In 2007, Pasco-Hernando Community College (PHCC) partnered with BayCare Life Management to form the first public-private joint initiative among Florida colleges to outsource student counseling services. The outsourcing of student counseling services, through the Student Assistance Program (SAP), addresses the growing mental, emotional and behavioral challenges that impede upon students' learning, persistence and college completion rates. The success of the program has been evident by an increase in student persistence, graduation rates, and the feelings of safety and security among students, staff and faculty as indicated by monthly and annual assessments. The PHCC-SAP has served as the template and model that has been emulated by postsecondary institutions throughout the country. Since its creation in 2007, at least half of Florida College System institutions made investments in SAPs and one-third of the other colleges have initiated conversations with PHCC administration to develop SAPs using the PHCC model.

CONVENTION INFORMATION

INSIDER INFORMATION OFFERED TO CONVENTION FIRST-TIMERS
As a first-time convention attendee, you are embarking on an experience that will inspire you, inform you about the AFC, and provide you with professional development and motivation to move your chapter forward.

Please join us from 2:00 pm- 3:00 pm, Wednesday, November 13th in Bonaire 1-2 for the First-Timers Orientation. You’ll pick up some tips and tricks to make your first AFC Convention successful. This is a chance to meet and mingle with other convention first-timers as well. We’ll answer all your questions at this casual, but very informative session. Your seasoned presenter will be Stephanie Campbell (Polk State College) and Tom Mason (Santa Fe College).

ASSEMBLY OF DELEGATES MEETING
The Assembly of Delegates is comprised of the members of the Association of Florida Colleges who attend the AFC Annual Convention, and it is chaired by Mr. Byron Todd, 2013 AFC President. The Assembly of Delegates meeting will be held on Friday, November 15 at 9:00 am in Grand Sierra B-C. The voting of all proposed bylaws will take place at this time. It is imperative that all delegates attend this important meeting as two-thirds of registered delegates are required for quorum.

DID YOU WIN A DOOR PRIZE?
Did you win a door prize? Be sure to check the bulletin board outside the Bonaire 3-4 to see if you won. All registered members will have a chance to win a door prize. Names will be drawn throughout the convention, so be sure to check back often.

All major door prizes will be drawn at major events. You must be present to win a major door prize.

AFC CONVENTION SERVICE PROJECT
This year’s AFC Convention Service Project will benefit The Harbor House of Central Florida. Please drop off items Wednesday, November 13th from 8:00 AM-5:00 PM and Thursday, November 14th from 8:00 AM-4:00 PM in Bonaire 3-4.
CONVENTION INFORMATION

AFC FOUNDATION, INC. TO HOLD SILENT AUCTION
The AFC Foundation, Inc. will hold a silent auction on Thursday, Novem-ber 14th in conjunction with the Presidential Reception and Gala. Proceeds from the auction will benefit the AFC Foundation Burst the Balloon Campaign.

Bidding will begin at 5:30 pm and will end at 8:00 pm. The winners will be announced during the Presidential Gala Social, which immedi-ately follows the Presidential Gala and will be posted outside the Reg-istration Office. Items will be available for pick up on Friday, November 15th from 8:00 am-12:00 pm in Grand Sierra Registration S.

Be sure to come and check out the wonderful silent auction items and support your AFC Foundation, Inc.

EXCITEMENT IN THE EXHIBIT HALL
The Exhibit Hall at the AFC 64th Annual Convention will showcase more than 30 companies and display products and services related to education, facilities, technology, finance, healthcare and many other areas, in an environment that will allow you to learn about and experi-ence their offerings first hand.

The exhibits will open Wednesday, November 13th in Grand Sierra E from 1:00 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. Come by between 1:30 p.m. - 3:00 p.m. to enjoy snacks and sodas with our exhibitors. The exhibit hall will re-open with a Welcome Reception from 6:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m. The exhibit hall will be open on Thursday, November 14th from 7:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m. Stop by to enjoy a cup of coffee and pastries between 7:00 a.m. - 10:30 a.m.

Also, remember AFC will hold a drawing for cash prizes at the Closing Awards Brunch on Friday, November 15th for those attendees who complete their AFC Exhibit Hall game piece. Make sure you stop by the Exhibit Hall early and often as it will close at 4:00 p.m. on Thurs-day. Please be sure to turn in your completed AFC Exhibit Hall Game Board prior to the Closing Awards Brunch.

HOTEL FOOD AND BEVERAGE POLICY
Hotel policies prohibit bringing any food or beverages not purchased from the hotel into any meeting room or event. The hotel reserves the right to deny admission to those who do not comply.

CANDIDATES AND VOTING

ARE YOU A VOTING DELEGATE?

AFC is your Association. Each year, conference delegates representing their chapter have the opportunity to elect state officers on Friday, November 15, 2013 from 7:00 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. It is important that each chapter’s delegates are actively involved in guiding the direction of the Association.

So, how do you know if you are a delegate?

Each chapter president selects delegates to represent the chapter during the Assembly of Delegates for bylaws changes and voting of new officers. Your chapter president will let you know if you have been selected as a delegate. Once your chapter has selected their delegates, an official list will be sent to the state office and this designation will be noted on your registration. When you pick up your name badge at convention, delegate will be listed by your name. Your badge should be used as identification while voting on Friday November 15 at 7:00 am in Antigua 1.

How many delegates does a chapter have?

This number is based on a one-to ten ratio, i.e. one delegate per 10 (ten) paid members...

What if I need to change a delegate once we are at convention?

Changes can be made at our Credentials desk in the registration area (PreConvene). Have your chapter president come see Alice Pendergrass and Evelyn Ward at the Credentials desk and they will be happy to assist you in filling out the appropriate paperwork to make this change. These forms can only be signed by the chapter president.

The most important part of being a delegate is to be present. You must be present on Friday, November 15 to vote. Remember voting begins at 7:00 am and runs until 8:30 am. Make sure your chapter’s voice is heard. Make sure you VOTE!

Equity Commission Presents: MBK’s Student for a Day - A Minority Recruitment Initiative
Location: Bonaire 5-6
Student for a Day at SF is a My Brother’s Keeper (MBK), Office of Admissions and Alachua County School Board collaboration, targeting minority male high school seniors in our local area and surrounding communities. Student for a Day at SF aims to increase minority male enrollment and student engagement at Santa Fe by providing our targeted prospective SF students an exclusive, in-depth, and personal experience of our college. The strength of this event is built on the collaborative effort and assistance of the entire SF family from current students to faculty and staff. Our success with this program thus far has compelled mass expansion of our target goals and the establishment of a subsequent Black Male Recruitment Conference. Come learn how this collaborative effort allows participants to encounter an experience while on campus; something far greater than just knowledge.

Aminah Nichols, MBK Program Specialist, Santa Fe College and Darrius Demps, Admissions/Orientation Specialist, Santa Fe College
9:15 AM-10:15 AM
Aim “Achievement In Math” and MAT-0057: “Pre-College Math”
Location: Bonaire 7
Mastery, Modularized, Compressed, Self-Accelerated and Repeatable; this new course prepares students for success in both Dev. Math and more importantly, their subsequent math course. Because students arrive with a wide variety of strengths and backgrounds in mathematics, it is reasonable to expect there to be varying levels of readiness among entering students. With the use of ongoing assessments and adaptive learning, students can learn, master and retain their individual math deficiencies and pave a road to math and college success.

Barbara Lott, Professor, Seminole State College of Florida and Eden Donahou, Professor, Seminole State College of Florida

9:15 AM-10:15 AM
Increasing the Success of Dual Enrollment Students at Transfer Universities in Florida
Location: Bonaire 8
This presentation analyzes the experiences of transfer students participating in dual enrollment programs in the state of Florida. The significance of the study is to gain useful knowledge to improve the dual enrollment program and the support systems of the dual enrollment system so future students will be more prepared to handle their initial transfer to the university.

Dr. Angel Rodriguez, Science Professor, Broward College
Collaborative simulation in health care education is an integral part of student learning that helps to build a strong learning foundation. Even with high and low fidelity simulation resources at the institution, there is still a need to implement ongoing collaborative learning that brings health occupations students (and staff) from all health programs together regularly to participate in realistic collaborative health care learning environments. This learning process can be cost effective and still have a high impact on the student learning experience. Pasco-Hernando Community College Health Occupations invited ALL health professions programs to participate in our low cost - high impact simulation scenarios which revealed great success with assessment of student critical thinking and social skill development. Health Education Programs interested in conducting low-cost, high impact simulation can be successful if there is a collaborative focus for successful student learning outcomes along with initiative and determination of faculty and staff to work together. Simulation does not have to be expensive, just meaningful and relevant to student and educator learning outcomes.

Freshman Composition Three Ways: Traditional Classroom, Hybrid, and 100% Online

I have had the opportunity to teach Freshman Composition I (ENC 1101) in three different modalities: traditional classroom, hybrid, and online. Each format has its own strengths and weaknesses. I will address what research, my colleagues, and my own experience suggests. It is important for faculty, advisors, and administration to understand what each of these course delivery options offers.

James Suderman, Northwest Florida State College

Student Development Commission Exemplary Practice: “Student Success Presentations To Go”

Location: Grand Sierra D

Workshops on a variety of topics from career services, test anxiety, leadership development and many more. The workshops are 30 - 50 minutes in length and portable. When faculty observed students struggling with a particular problem, i.e., test anxiety, note taking or other issues, they can request a workshop to address those issues to be delivered in the classroom. This service has become a wonderful partnership between faculty and student success.

Luther Buie, Campus Achievement Leader, Florida State College at Jacksonville and BJ Hausman, Dean of Student Success, Florida State College at Jacksonville

mLearning: You mean I can learn on my phone?
Location: Grand Sierra G

First, it was just “learning” in a traditional classroom. Then, came “distance learning” and you checked out VHS tapes from the library. Next, there was “eLearning” or “online learning” which allows course material to be put online. Now, the new trend is “mLearning” or “mobile learning.” mLearning is the cutting edge phenomenon of using mobile devices to consume educational content anytime/anywhere. This presentation will explore the benefits/limitations of mLearning as well as demonstrate how an example traditional lesson would be changed for the new format.

Matthew White, Director of Distributed Systems, Chipola College

9:15 AM-10:15 AM
Leadership By Design
Location: Grand Sierra H

In the wake of education reform and restructuring, the demands for leaders to make the paradigm shift is paramount. New policies and a new generation call for new strategies. Are you prepared for the challenge? Are you ready to accept the call? This workshop will offer aspiring leaders and current administrators strategies that will increase productivity, efficiency, effectiveness and cultivate high quality programs that will meet the demands of today’s student needs.

Dr. Tunjarnika L. Coleman-Ferrell, Associate Dean, STEM Disciplines, Palm Beach State College

10:00 AM-12:00 PM
Council of Presidents SubMeeting on Institute of Higher Education Strategic Planning
Location: Regents Boardroom
If bias is introduced into everyday written and oral communication, it is vital we teach ESL students to recognize bias through skills such as recognizing tone. Using students’ existing knowledge such as recognizing tone in music or voice, teachers can advance students’ understanding of tone in reading. To facilitate this process, I created an interactive presentation with pictures, video, music, and humor.

Dr. Patrick Brennan is a tenured professor of history at Gulf Coast State College. In his presentation, Dr. Brennan will demonstrate how he connects intellectual concepts such as the free market of ideas to the scientific revolution and social justice. With an emphasis on critical thinking, his students learn that how we think about things is as important as the things that we think about.

This presentation will be a mini-lesson on how to calculate drip rate for manually regulated or gravity flow IVs. Prior to the calculation of drip rate we will first understand the concepts involved with IVs such as IV tubing calibration (the drop factor), the differences between macrodrip and microdrip sets, and the uses of each type of said set. We will discuss the needed number of total drops to infuse into the patient by using knowledge from the drop factor and total volume of fluid prescribed. From this information we will calculate the drip rate measured in drops per minute.
10:45 AM-11:45 AM
Occupational and Workforce Education Commission Exemplary Practice: Breaking Down Silos - Shared Content between Corporate Training & Academics
Location: Bonaire 1-2
This presentation addresses the ongoing challenge to corporate training and academia, namely linking both sides of the college to the current demands of industry via industry certifications and articulated credit ladders on the talent development pathway that provide a route to success for all learners. Additionally, the ETAM initiative was truly innovative connecting the three college consortium with curriculum development and the corresponding shared delivery allowing for the maximization of resources.

Presenting: Dr. Eric A Roe, Director of Engineering Technology, Principal Investigator, Director, Polk State College and Howard Drake, MBA, Program Manager, Florida TRADE/ETAM, Polk State College and Glenn Goonis, CPT, JD, Program Coordinator, ETAM, State College of Florida

Technology Commission Exemplary Practice: Why Use One, When You Can Have Many? Open Education Resources
Location: Grand Sierra F
This presentation will showcase the dramatic benefits to improving student access and success through the integration of a variety of OER Web 2.0 resources into your class. The dramatic cost reduction achieved by replacing traditional textbooks with virtual OER materials, coupled with the ability to integrate a wide variety of other learning resources that can address a range of learning styles, are keys to improving student success. The recent redesign of AST 1002 Descriptive Astronomy at South Florida State College will provide a case study backdrop that will enable participants to get a first-hand view of the effectiveness of each. These tools are all student-friendly, mobile- and BYOD-capable, and many are already familiar with students.

Circles of Innovation: Where Great Discoveries Are Made Possible!
Location: Bonaire 7
Circles of Innovation is a different type of professional development. Over the last few years of Great Teacher Colloquia at Valencia, we have learned that often the purest, and most effective, form of faculty development is well-facilitated shoptalk. Using shoptalk, what research has shown to be the key underling principles of motivation, and Steven Johnson’s ideas on Where Good Ideas Come From, Circles of Innovation creates learning spaces both digitally and across Valencia’s campuses where faculty come to mingle, contribute, collaborate, solve problems, and create new forms for great teaching. Circles of Innovation is “Where good ideas collide and great discoveries are made possible!” While each Circle is unique given the audience and content, all follow a similarly facilitated model: Spark, Share, Adapt, Play & Socially Rank. At each circle, participating faculty are sparked into facilitated shoptalk by engaging videos, info-graphics, or recent study findings. Participants and facilitators share concerns, ideas, and new innovations. Participants adapt and play with the new methods and technologies, and share and socially rank them with others across the college. Participants of this session will take part in a sample Circle and experience the innovation and excitement. Instructions, innovation handouts, and other links will be provided. We are also hoping to identify colleges might like to take part in digitally collaborative inter-college Circles of Innovation.

How High is Too High? Focusing Your Limited Resources to Effectively Reduce Your Rising Cohort Default Rate
Location: Curacao 1
How comfortable are you with your cohort default rate? Would you like to put a plan in place to lower it but are not sure how with your limited budget and resources? We will explain how your 3 year cohort default rate is determined, what it means to you and your school, and questions you should ask yourself when deciding on solutions to lower it and achieve long term success with your students. For more than 25 years, Inceptia/NSLP has been developing and providing solutions schools need to help their students succeed. We have worked with more than two million students and 5,500 schools providing an array of services including financial education, outreach and default prevention services.

Learning Resources Commission Exemplary Practice: Math Up: Gateway to Success
Location: Curacao 2
In the Fall of 2012, the Academic Support Center (ASC), in collaboration with the School of Mathematics at Daytona State College launched a new program, entitled Math Up, to help increase college readiness and completion. Math Up is a free program that provides a collaborative, engaging, stress-free environment in which students enrolled in Intermediate Algebra (MAT1033) can review key concepts and study skills the week before beginning the course. In this presentation, the facilitators will first review the history of the program’s creation, development, and implementation, as well as the program’s constant evolution and commitment to improvement. We will then uncover the findings and lessons learned from this initiative and discuss the impact that the program has had on the ASC and developmental math students. Finally, we will discuss and explore the implications for the college-wide community of using Math Up as a model to encourage collaboration and inspire innovative and creative initiatives to help students succeed.
